

Natural Remedies Advisor (Part-Time) – As Nature Intended Chiswick, London
Competitive Hourly Rate + Excellent Benefits + Bonus Opportunities

One of the UK's foremost organic retailers is looking to strengthen its team with the appointment of Advisors specialising in the natural remedies sector.

The Role:

Each store has several dedicated areas of speciality including organic food, skincare and natural remedies. As a Natural Remedies Advisor this role will focus on the latter offering customers a range of advice and services in areas such as supplements, skincare and natural beauty products.

The small, friendly and vibrant stores are based both on the high street and in shopping centres and you will be an integral part of achieving their aim of delivering first class customer service to back up a high-quality product range.

This role is part time and could include weekends although flexibility is essential.

The Candidate:

Natural Remedies Advisors must have experience in nutrition ideally gained from a similar retail environment although consideration will be given to this with this knowledge from alternative environments.

It would help too if you had knowledge of VMS and herbal remedies coupled with the ability to pass this knowledge on in a confident fashion to a range of customers.

The company are looking for an individual who can demonstrate a real passion and a clear knowledge and application of the fundamental basics of high retail standards.

You will be a versatile and flexible individual with a positive and enthusiastic attitude plus excellent organisational skills and multi-tasking ability. You must be creative, able to demonstrate excellent visual merchandising skills and the ability to shape a store around delivering a first-class customer journey.

This is a fantastic opportunity for a confident retail professional to develop their career within a dynamic and innovative company. You will follow a tailored training programme and receive on going on-the-job training to develop your skills.

The Company:

A leading organic food retailer, established in 2000, with 6 stores across London. As a member of the Organic Trade Board, the company offer a product range including fresh produce, meat, fish, chilled goods, beer and wine, extensive natural remedies plus expert free advice, all in an effort to provide the best organic shopping experience London can offer.

Offering a competitive salary, staff discount, training, plus a rewarding and stimulating place to work, this is a fantastic opportunity to join a growing business.

Please send your CV with a covering letter and why you want to work part time to jobs@asnatureintended.uk.com.